

Irrigation Project?

4 messages

[Redacted]
To: Human Resource <hr@habitatvictoria.com>

Mon, Aug 9, 2021 at 12:17 PM

Hi Tiffany,

I hope this email finds you well. :)

I am writing to see if it might be possible to do a project to help me instal an irrigation system and have some of the families come out and help? I'm going to have to dig trenches for all the irrigation pipes, as well as install all the pipes, so this is where extra man power could be helpful.

I don't have any dates set in my mind (but thinking it would be a weekend), but just wanted to see if this would be something that could be used to help other families get some volunteer hours.

Thanks,
-Erin

Tiffany Gates <hr@habitatvictoria.com>

To: [Redacted]

Mon, Aug 9, 2021 at 12:22 PM

Hi Erin,

Great idea – this is a project that requires Habitat approval.

To get the green light we would need to know more of what your plan is. Are you doing the pre-work and wanting a company to install the system?

At current we have two families who have lots of hours remaining. If we are able to approve the project, I would be more than happy to run it past them. I will check on other hours – to see where folks are.

I hope you've been having an amazing summer. Krista mentioned she received your cheques – thank you.

t.

[Quoted text hidden]

Erin Booth <erin.e.booth@gmail.com>
To: Tiffany Gates <hr@habitatvictoria.com>

Mon, Aug 9, 2021 at 12:59 PM

Excellent, I'll work on putting the plan together for you.

I woke up this morning to find that my kids had left the sprinkler in the back yard running.....all day. They were innocently trying to "help", but it's something I'd like to do as it takes quite a while to water given the area that needs to be covered (moving sprinklers 4-5 times, and only being able to water between the crd permitted hours...it's a struggle to say the least!)

-Erin
[Quoted text hidden]

Tiffany Gates <hr@habitatvictoria.com>

Mon, Aug 9, 2021 at 1:00 PM

To:

Sounds good.

[Quoted text hidden]